

Our Product Development Team members are on site at the grower. Instead of just negotiating the commercial aspects, we stand firmly with our feet in the soil. Together with the grower, we investigate how we can ensure optimal organic integrity, stakeholder criteria, quality, and proper certification for all the products we deliver.

It is our goal to deliver year-round qualitative and reliable products by ensuring organic integrity from local growers.

How do you benefit from this?

1.

Organic Integrity

By verifying the production process, we ensure the organic integrity. This way we can guarantee that our products are 100% organic.

Quality Management

We constantly check the quality of the products, from blossom to harvest. This allows us to proactively respond to quality variations. By doing so, we manage the volume expectations accordingly to prevent disappointment.

3.

Supply

We ensure that products with a high organic integrity are readily available so we can continue to meet the needs of our customers, now and in the future.

Innovation

We continue to investigate market demands and for each case, we assess how we can incorporate them into our production process.

5.

Local & International Team

Our international key account managers are in close contact with our local agronomists. Our local staff is on-site daily.
